A unique wedding event in Bangalore will draw folks from across the country

Get set for Trousseau week

Planning to get married soon? Check out the Trousseau week 2011, a wedding show to be held in Bangalore, which will help you plan your dream wedding in style. It includes all elements of putting your wedding essentials together, right from getting your trousseau ready, to browsing through bridal wear, looking at the work of top notch designers and trendy jewellers and discovering wedding related services.

Several international brands will offer special promotions during the four days at the event in UB city and will present special packages and discounts too. The Trousseau Week will also house a group of specialized wedding-related service providers like decor planners, wedding card designers, photographers and entertainment companies who will showcase their work through stalls set up around the mall, giving customers a platform for personal interactions.

The event opens with a glittering 'by invitation only' fashion show on September 28, showcasing the hottest designs and latest trends in trousseau wear by some of finest designers in the country. Well-known Indian couture designers along with select national and international brands like Kimaya, Minawala, Paul Smith, Canali, Etro, Amrapali and Estee Lauder will showcase their latest wedding collections. Bangalore's favourite fashion guru, Prasad Bidapa, will choreograph the show.

As for the rest of the event, there is something for everyone looking to tie the knot. With personalized shoppers, mehendi artists, cake-tasting sessions and other wedding paraphernalia all under one roof, here's your chance to check out the latest on the wedding scene.
